Marie Claire Leger, M.D., Ph.D.

Assistant Professor of Clinical Dermatology
Weill Cornell Medicine
Assistant Dermatologist
New York- Presbyterian Hospital

Dr. Marie Leger focuses her practice on general, surgical, and cosmetic dermatology. She treats a broad range of medical and cosmetic conditions, with a particular interest in acne, rosacea, skin cancer screening, laser surgery, tattoo related issues, psoriasis, eczema, and autoimmune blistering diseases. Her research interests include technology and health, telemedicine, international dermatology, and tattoo reactions and removal. She contributes regularly to medical journals, including JAMA Dermatology, and consults with organizations such as the New York Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and the FDA regarding tattoo health and access to isotretinoin for acne treatment. She is a former host of Doctor Radio on Sirius XM.

Dr. Leger completed her dermatology residency at New York University, where she served as chief resident and worked as an attending physician. She attended medical school at the University of Illinois, where she also received a PhD in the Institute of Communications Research. She completed her undergraduate education at the University of California, Berkeley.

Dr. Leger is from the San Francisco Bay Area, and has spent time working and traveling in Mexico City, Central America, and Africa.
